South Africa Mission Trip

Hey y'all:

Here is some information regarding the South Africa mission trip our ministry team will be going on. Many people have asked for more information, and we thought this would be the best way to share with everyone at once.

The dates are Sep. 12-22 and arriving back home here in Alabama early morning on the 23rd, but it's possible we add one day and make it Sep. 11-22 and still arriving back in Alabama early morning on the 23rd. The cost is $2250 per person!! NOTE: All three of us are going!! It's possible it could drop and it's possible the price could go up depending on the price of airline tickets. If ticket prices don't go up, we should be fine at $2250 per person. Parkview Baptist Church is hoping to order tickets soon in order to get the best price. They would like to order tickets either later this week or early next week.

Regarding the trip, here are some of the plans. These are flexible plans that could change somewhat.

1. The team will be involved in construction on their ministry site. They will have other construction teams coming prior to us, so there is still some uncertainty on our exact project at this time. Most likely it will be helping with the construction of small dorms for future mission teams.

2. The team will also likely be involved in school evangelism at the local schools. There is opportunity to go to the schools and share testimonies plus teaching the Bible.

3. The team will possibly be involved in children/youth ministry at the new church start. This may take place in the evenings.

4. The team will take part in a hunting trip at the end of the trip. It's a hunting trip but also a ministry because the meat from the hunt will provide the missionary family and others in the community much needed food. There is an additional cost if someone wants to shoot an animal.

That is the current info I have at this time regarding the trip. Plans may change depending on how God works there over the next few months.

Sponsorship/donations can be made in several different ways:

1. If writing a check, please make out to Parkview Baptist Church and attach a note that says designated to Matt and Trina, Maverick Harty South Africa mission trip September 2024. This attached note is very important so we receive the sponsorship/donation for this trip. Checks can be mailed to:

Parkview Baptist Church

2. If you want to give online, here is a link to the churches website that we are going with <https://www.parkviewfamily.org/give> NOTE Please choose "Other" and type in funds designated to Matt and Trina, Maverick Harty South Africa mission trip September 2024. It is important that you type this in so we receive the sponsorship/donation for this trip.

3. If you want to give directly to our ministry, please write a check out to Red Oak Ministries, and we can turn the money into the church ourselves. NOTE: Please attach a note that this money is designated to Matt and Trina, Maverick Harty South African mission trip September 2024. It is important that you attach that note so our treasurer/finance team know how to designate the sponsorship/donation. Checks can be mailed to:
